NEPA Bullet –

• BLM's Utah State office is supportive of EPA regulating existing oil & gas sources to reduce VOC emissions because, as they evaluate NEPA for oil & gas projects in the Basin, they receive input from EPA to add mitigation requirements on existing sources while at the same time receiving pushback from Operators who argue BLM does not have the authority to require emission reductions from existing sources. The most recent NEPA approval was for Newfield's Monument Butte Oil & Gas Project with ~5,700 wells and two more are in the pipeline (EOG Resources' Greater Chapita Wells with ~2,800 wells and Crescent Point's project with ~3,000-5,000 wells).

Hi All,

Please see attached as follow-up from this morning's meeting. I basically pulled info from the Response to Comments, RIA and letter to Gov. Herbert. I didn't see responses for the last two (focus resources on developing a streamlined permitting solution instead of a FIP, and the complaint about declining production means new regulatory responses will be a burden), so please review those answers carefully.

Thanks in advance for your review/comments.

Jody
